Dear Sir,

Re: K. & Y. Buchanan and G.A. & C.M. Thompson.

We refer to our letters of 2nd September, 1982 and 5th October, 1982 and to your reply of 8th October, 1982 and note that we have had no further communication from you.

We are instructed to inform you that if you fail to carry out our client's instructions in regard to enforcing his rights under the contract, he will hold your company responsible for the loss that results therefrom and in particular our client will not be responsible for interest on moneys borrowed from your company in so far as they could have been reduced by the collection of the moneys due under the contract.

We shall be pleased therefore to receive an up to date advice as to progress in this matter by return mail.

Yours faithfully,
WARDLAW, BURNES & CO.
